Head injury suspected in Bay pier drowning

By ELLIS CUEVAS

An Ohio youth apparently struck a piling or cross brace as he fell from a pier and drowned in the Mississippi Sound in Bay St. Louis Friday afternoon, Carl Banderet, Hancock County coroner, said Saturday.

Bobert Swassing, 15, of Worthington, thio was fishing on the St. Stanislaus High School pier with Francis Tucker, a novice of St. Augustine Seminary, when the accident took place, Douglas Williams, Bay St. Louis chief of police, said Saturday.

Authorities said Swassing and Tucker were fishing. Tucker had turned away from Swassing when he heard a splash and the youth apparently never resurfaced, officials reported.

Banderet said an injury to an ear, scapes on the nose and arm of the youth, and because he did not resurface, indicates Swassing may have been knocked unconscious when he struck the pier just before or after hit-

Swassing is the nephew of Rev. Bede Smith of St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis, whom the youth was visiting A coroner's inquest was held at the scene and death was ruled as accidential drowning, Banderet stated. The victim is survived by his parents, Ray and Carbini Swassing and one

The two youths were reportedly the only persons on the pier at the time of the incident.

Rescue efforts were made by four divers without gear and were later joined by a group of St. Stanislaus Day Camp counselors.

Hancock County Civil Defense, Mississippi Marine Conservation, and two volunteer boats used dragging hooks in search of the victim.

Hancock Dive Rescue Squad members Reggie Fayard, Gail Nami, and Jim Gaudet were joined by divers Robert Cox of Gulfport police, and Pat

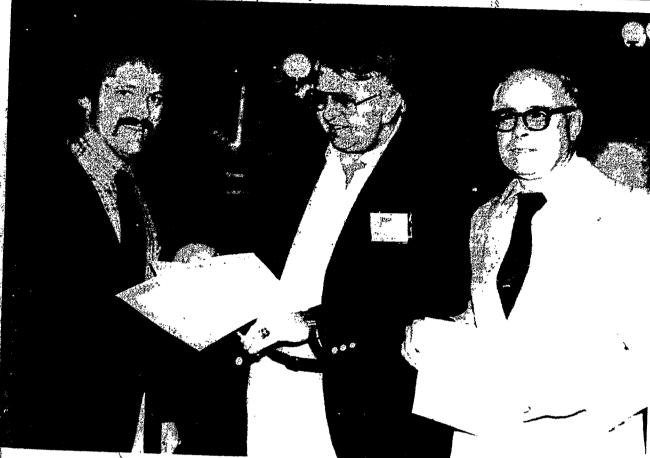

Sullivan of Gulfport fire department in addition to a commercial diver in search of the youth.

Cox and Sullivan found Swassing's body in the murky water under the pier. The incident was reported at 1:58 p.m. Williams said, and recovery was made at 5:55 p.m. by two of the divers under the pier only a few feet from a.

Others involved in the search included ed members of the Bay police and fire departments, Diamondhead Fire Rescue Unit, East Hancock Volunteer Fire department, faculty and counselors of St. Stanislaus, Jerry Carpenter of Diamondhead who brought sandwiches and cold drinks for the rescue units; and other volunteers. Ed Friloux Sr., Lois Friloux, and Ed Friloux Jr. acted as tenders for the

King Neptune Leo Seal to lead July 4th Rodeo

Bay St. Louis native Leo Seal Jr. was named King Neptune 35th at the annual kick-off of the Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo last week.

Seal's father was named King Neptune II, some 33-years-ago, and this is the first time for a father and son to have led the state's official fishing

The rodeo held at Gulfport's Small Craft Harbor, is recognized as the World's largest fishing rodeo. An act of the Mississippi Legislature in 1963 recognizes it as the official fishing rodeo of the state.

The rodeo will be held July, 1-4. Seal, president of Hancock Bank, was recently named Alumnus of the Year by Mississippi State University.

An active member of the rodeo, he has served as an associate director and advisor for the past 20 years. In 1978 he was recognized as honoray president and was a previous admiral of the fleet for the rodeo.

His queen will be selected Saturday night at the annual pageant and ball at the Broadwater Beach Hotel in Biloxi.

Princesses from Hancock County in the fishing rodeo and queen's contest are Kimberly Breland, representing the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, and Marguerite Beaugez, representing the City of Bay St. Louis. Seal is a resident of Bay St. Louis, a graduate of Bay High School, veteran of World War II, and graduated from Mississippi State in 1949. Prior to his banking carrer, he unloaded fish and shrimp and oysters for a fish market then ran a fish route in Picayune and Poplarville to neighborhood stores. His employment includes a pole climber for the telephone company, construction work at a Navy base, laundry route driver, and pumping gas at service stations in his youthful years.

At Mississippi State, the son of a bank president, he put himself through college on a football scholarship and earned his own spending money.

After graduation from college he joined Hancock Bank as a 'runner' and has held all positions to his current title as president.

Under his leadership, Hancock Bank has grown to one of the largest in Mississippi.

Seal has served as president of the Mississippi Economic Council, Mississippi Bankers Association, Gulfport Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Gulfport Rotary Club.

He has received numerous civic awards including Hancock County's Outstanding Citizen Award, Gulfport's Most Outstanding Young Man, one of Mississippi's Most Outstanding Young Men, the American Legion Outstanding Service Award, and the Distinguished American Award.

Treasurer of his senior class at MSU and a three-year tackle of the Bulldog football team, Seal served on a long list of university committees and groups since graduation.

Among them are the Development Foundation Board of Directors, University Athletic Committee, Building Club Board of Directors, 'M' Club Alumini Association, Stadium Expansion Committee, and the Alumni Association.

Seal was elected president of the State Chamber of Commerce and served as president of both the Young Bankers in 1961 and the Senior Section of the Mississippi Banker's Association

Commission to discuss animal shelter upkeep

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR. Members of the revived Hancock County Animal Control Commission plan to meet with the animal wardens of Bay St. Louis and Waveland to arrange a maintenance schedule for the soon to be opened Waveland Animal Shelter. The facility is designed to serve those cities and the county.

City and county officials, and commission members met Wednesday night at Waveland City Hall to discuss maintainance, management and funding of the tri-government facility.

Jerry Comiskey, one of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society's commission representatives, after a lengthy discussion of a possible shelter maintenance schedule, recommended the group meet with the wardens so they could also offer suggestions. The Bay animal warden is Gregory Brown and in Waveland is Joe Schultz. The commission members agreed to meet 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Hancock Civil Defense office in Bay St. Louis to talk with the wardens. Mayor John Longo of Waveland suggested, based on the wardens' work schedule, that Schultz clean the facility and feed animals in the morning and Why Cono Caranna is running for District Attorney.

All over our 3-county area, people are losing their trust in our legal system.

There's too much crime. We hear of questionable plea-bargaining deals that put criminals back on our streets. We see white-collar crime ignored. We watch as the federal government investigates our Cono Caranna wants to restore the public's trust in our legal system. As District Attorney, he

The experience we need.

Cono Caranna has been working in law enforcement for the past ten years.

As City Attorney for Biloxi, he's worked closely with police. Helping them coordinate investiga-tions. Making sure they built solid cases. Advising them on points of law.

He served as a Commissioner on the Mississippi Bar for three years — elected by the attorneys of Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties.

He has the knowledge and experience to be our next District Attorney.

Restoring your trust.

"As a City Attorney, I've seen first-hand the problems in the District Attorney's office. "The police are doing their jobs. They're making arrests. And the judges have taken a strong stand against convicted criminals.

But our criminal justice system won't work without trust. It's only as good as its chief law enforcement officer — the District Attorney. As your next District Attorney, I'll make sure the system works the same for everybody. I'll see to it that crime is investigated and prosecuted wherever it exists.

"I want to restore honesty and integrity to the office of District Attorney.'

A Proven Leader.

Cono Caranna is a recognized leader in the legal profession. He was chosen State President of the City Attorney's Association, and President of the Harrison County Bar Association. He's a member of the American Trial Lawyers Association and the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers. He serves on the Executive Committee of the Mississippi Municipal Association.

His leadership was acknowledged in Viet Nam. An Infantry Company Commander, Caranna was awarded three Bronze Stars, the Air Medal, and the Purple Heart.

As a parent, he shares our concern over the influence of crime in our community. He and his wife Connie live in Biloxi with their two children, Katie, age 10, and Cono, age 8.

Let's elect Cono Carannas

Cono Caranna is concerned with the problems in the District Attorney's office. And he's ready to do something about them. On August 2nd, let's elect Cono Caranna, District Attorney.

Highway Patrol chief lists DUI provisions

Alcohol and drug abusers who drive under the influence can lose their driver's license on the spot when a new law goes into effect July 1.

This action, says Col. Donald Butler, chief of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, has both immediate and longrange affects.

Butler said the law allows the arresting officer to immediately confiscate the license of the driver arrested for DUI if chemical testing of a person's breath indicates the blood alcohol concentration was .10 percent or if the driver refuses to submit to a chemical breath test.

"How long the license is suspended by the Department of Public Safety depends on how many times the driver has been convicted for DUI," Butler

He said first offenders will have their licenses suspended for 90 days provided they attend a Mississippi Alcohol Safety Education Program school for a minimum of 10 hours.

Hardship defenses for driver license reinstatements may be made only by first offenders and only after 45 days of the 90-day suspension have elapsed.

First offenders electing not to attend a MASEP school will lose their licenses for one year. First offenders are to be fined $200-$500 and may be sentenced to 24 hours in jail.

"Each successive DUI offense brings stiffer fines, penalties and mandatory jail sentences," Butler said.

"For example, drivers whose second DUI offense occurs within a five-year period face a mandatory jail sentence of 48 hours to one year, a fine up to $1,000 and a two-year license suspension. The jail sentence may be suspended only if the offender performs at least 10 days to one year community service work.'

Butler said the third time a person is convicted of DUI in a five-year period the offender will spend a minimum of 30 days or a maximum of 365 days in jail. The three-time offender may be fined up to $1,000 and lose his license for three

There is no alternative to spending time in jail for the person convicted of DUI three times in a five-year period. Those suspected of DUI who refuse to take the breath test will have their licenses suspended for 90 days and will be fined up to $1,000. Those with a previous DUL conviction who refuse to take a breath test, lose their license for one year.

Butler said serious financial problems can confront violators convicted of DUI after July 1.

'Working people who lose their driver's licenses may be faced with employment problems especially if they do their own driving to and from work," he said.

"Our troopers will enforce the new DUI law to its fullest extent. Fifty to 60 percent of all fatal highway accidents in Mississippi are alcohol-related.

Removing drunk drivers from our highways through stricter penalties will lessen the risk of a drunk causing the death of an innocent person,' Butler said.

Fireworks present threat

(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and this newspaper.)

With the Fourth of July approaching, now is the time to make the annual warning concerning the use of fireworks. Although fireworks have become associated with patriotic feelings, they present a very real threat to safety, particularly for children.

Death, blindings, amputations, and severe burns have all too often been the tragic results of a Fourth of July celebration, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association.

Many people mistakenly believe that those fireworks which can still be purchased legally are safe. In fact, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has reported that the majority of firework-related injuries which occur each year are linked to legal - not illegal - fireworks. And more than half of the victims are under age 15.

If you must use fireworks to celebrate this Fourth of July please keep the following points in mind:

*Fireworks are not toys for children. Although many parents consider a sparkler the ideal firework for young children, they should be aware that sparklers burn at very high temperatures and can easily ignite clothing. Younger children should never be allowed to play with fireworks

*If you choose to permit older children to use fireworks, do it only under close supervision and do not allow any horseplay while they are being used.

*Before using any firework, read and follow all warning instructions printed on the label.

"AS I UNDERSTAND, IF WE HIT THE PIÑATA JUST RIGHT, WE GET SHOWERED WITH GOODIES."

These days, because of a lenient bankruptcy law enacted October 1. 1979, too many individuals and businesses are allowed to go bankrupt with no strong incentives for payment

Since that law took effect, bankruptcies have soared to an annual rate of more than 400,000 — about 200 percent higher than the yearly rate before the law was on the books.

Why? Because the more lenient law allows debtors to choose between Chapter 7 bankruptcy in which a debtor discharges all his debt, and Chapter 13 which calls for repayment of part of all of his debt under a court-supervised schedule. Too many debtors are filing bankruptcy under Chapter 7 when they could file under Chapter 13 and repay most of their debts. A bill has passed the U.S. Senate to change the conditions under which someone can file bankruptcy, and now the issue is before the House of Representatives in the form of a proposal by Rep. Mike Synar (D-Okla.). Congressman Synar's bill would give bankruptcy courts discretion to dismiss Chapter 7 relief when a judge is convinced Chapter 13 proceedings would better serve the public interest The measure abuse of credit card "loading up" in which a person filing bankruptcy is allowed to heavily charge debts within 40 days of filing bankruptcy.

The bill would also require a debtor to file a financial statement.

The Synar bill accepts a recommendation by the National Bankruptcy commission that says when a person seeks bankruptcy relief he should be counseled by a designee of the court as to the options available under Chapters 7 and 13.

It takes into account that too many Chapter 7 filings need not occur if the debtors knew the advantages of Chapter 13 in protecting their future ability to obtain credit.

Because of the current law, consumers are paying higher prices for products and are witnessing limits on credit availability. It is time to restructure bankruptcy laws so that the ability to repay debts is the guiding force of settlement.

Diamondhead doctor supports Hancock General

Sea Coast Echo

Letter to the Editor:

This letter is to let you and your readers know how I feel about the front page article which was published in The Sea Coast Echo on Thursday, June 5. captioned "Injured Diamondhead Residents Directed To Gulfport Hospital."

This article was to my way of thinking not newsworthy and it surprises me that you considered it to be so.

Seriously injured people should be taken to the nearest hospital emergency room and transferred from there to the hospital of their choice, if the injury warrants it - transfer.

Certainly a public servant with a 'bone to pick' should not direct the patient nor the patient's family any place. This article places Diamondhead, not mention Hancock General Hospital in a bad light and is not appreciated, at least by me. With reference to the two recent anesthetic deaths at Hancock General. there should be no speculation as to how it happened until the facts are known. The situation is bad enough as it is and reminds one of the 'Tylenol Affair.' I find it hard to believe that any doctor involved could be directly responsible. It would seem that perhaps the equipment was faulty. Why - who knows? But at least let us wait and see and not deliberately destroy the reputations of hospital and doctors or any man for that matter.

This letter is unsolicited. It is strictly the strong feeling of a citizen of Diamondhead doubt difficerely,

Bay resident criticizes hospital's cash only policy

Letters to the Editor The Sea Coast Echo Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

The front-page article of your June 9 issue concerning the 'cash only policy' of Hancock General Hospital has really angered me.

Let's really get serious and start asking some questions.

What is the purpose of this policy? Why does such a thing exist? Is the hospital so strapped for funds that it has to resort to such methods to collect its income? Can a hospital give a morally correct answer to these questions as to why it turns away needy patients?

Oh, I'm sure we can get a business ethics answer that would surely justify this policy. After all, in order to survive financially, a hospital must be properly run, but its main purpose is not to prosper as a business, but to serve its com-

If our hospital, in its present status, cannot get the revenues needed to continue as it is and has to resort to a guaranteeable 'cash only' source of funds, then what in the world are we doing facing the possibility of financing a larger hospital that may be in the same financial straits some day?

What good is it for someone to work hard at a job where one of his benefits is a hospital insurance policy or for someone to work and pay hard money in premiums for a policy for hospital insurance to be used in extreme emergency situations?

When cash is not available (one of hospital insurance's appealing benefits that urges us to buy it) we discover that the hospital cannot accept that coverage at that time when needed.

Oh, yes, we're told in extreme cases there are exceptions and that some cases are admitted regardless of the

Now, are you going to tell me that so-meone working in admissions filling out forms is medically trained as to what constitutes a medical emergency? If the facts in your article are accurate, it seems there was an error in judgement made somewhere!"
[Isn't the hospital supposed to be serving the county and not the other way around? Then why does it have such a discriminatory policy?

Does a county hospital serve its people by holding it liable in possible cases where serious injury or death occurs, or maybe endangering their own lives?

To those who have authorized such a policy and carry it out, I ask you to read the article in the paper and ask yourselves, "Is this the way that I want. a member of my family to be treated?"

In the article, Ed Friloux, who advised Diamondhead residents not to use Hancock General Hospital, was criticized for not supporting the hospital.

First, I have had the pleasure of knowing Friloux and belonging to the same organization once where we were both officers.

I know him to be a very principled man, one of integrity and one who is deeply concerned and involved with the people of this community.

He would not have made such a statement, I am sure, if he were not concerned with the welfare of the people he works with and for. Can we condemn him for seeking ways that people are handled fairly and humanely?

Now, can our hospital ask us to condone such a policy as this? This thing not only angers me, it frightens me.

I, or someone close to me, may need the hospital's services one day, and for reasons beyond our control, may not be admitted. Scary, isn't it?

Respectfully. Peter J. Scianna Bay St. Louis

Board promises 16th Section management decision Monday

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Gulf Regional Planning Commission was promised a definite answer by Monday night from the Hancock County School Board regarding acceptance of a proposal presented several weeks ago. The proposal by the Gulfport organization is for developing a management plan for 16th Section lands in Hancock County.

The plan consists of conducting research and studying the land to determine the existing status of the property its current use and present lease agreements.

The proposal includes developing a management plan for current and future use

The commission proposes to research laws regarding land management; provide current aerial photography; Carimetric, ownership, soil, existing and use and zoning maps; current oil · se and appraisal reports; a timber in antony, suggested land use; and zonthe development and lease plans.

The proposal also includes developing a maintenance and update system of the management plan which will be termoned with computer stored data, a GPC spokesman reported.

"I could make money off that land by just putting cattle on it at 50 cents a head," said Head.

Head continued by saying, "Sometimes you have to spend money to make money. The figures that we are offering you come out to less than $1,000 per 'unit'."

"There is a lot of land out there that could be utilized and turned into money," said Head.

"If this land were leased to industry, for example, they would build roads. The value of property is based on the access roads," Head added.

"The land could be used commercially. What we are trying to do is to find out just how the land could be put to better use," he stated.

"To utilize the land is just logical progression. This is the way towns have been built," Head continued.

George Ladner, a board member, said, "I just don't think we can make money on the land." Board Member Tommy Shaw, said,

"I would rather wait for a full board before makfing a decision." Johnny Banks, another board member, said, "I think its a great idea.

I'm ready to vote for it right now." Randolph said, "Gulf Regional has the resources to plan for immediate and future development of these lands. Currently our surface leases consist of residential and road front leases."

"In order to derive more revenue we have to penetrate and develop the interior portions of 16th Section land, whether it be residential or commercial development," continued Randolph.

"Gulf Regional will provide the tools and vehicles necessary to adequately plan the development of all of our lands to significantly increase the revenues." Randolph added, "Right now we don't have plans for any current or future development of the 10,000 acres of land that exist in Hancock County school district."

"If we don't have plans for development then we're going to delay revenue that could be derived from developments that may occur as a result of the planning."

The colorful world of rainbows is being explored by school-age children at the Hancock County Library System.

The children are participating in the 1983 summer reading program, entitled 'Reading Rainbows.'

"Our 380 summer readers are learning about all kinds of rainbows," says Becky Mitchum, children's librarian.

"The program was begun by crafting a rainbow bookmark. The movie 'The Mouse and His Child' was also seen," she reports.

Monday at 10 a.m. representatives of the Gulfport ATA Fitness Center will present a karate demonstration. All summer readers are encouraged to attend.

The program is free to all participants and is coordinated by the Mississippl Library Commission:

ETV Brief GRAND CENTRAL

A special documentary examines the history of Grand Central Terminal at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 29, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

"Grand Central," narrated by James Earl Jones, points up the interaction between Grand Central Terminal and New York City and also the architecture of the building and the mythology surrounding the area.

Guest appearances include Brendan Gill, noted writer and critic; Philip Johnson, architect: Robert Wagner. former mayor of New York. and Kent Barwick, chairman of the Landmarks Preservation Committee.

"O my people, hear my know everything that God wants a father to be nor do I have the space if I did know.

But I would love to talk about one aspect of fathering, indeed all parenting, which is more often than not wholly known, things our fathers have neglected. That, of course, would be the spiritual upbringing of our children.

The inspried Psalmist in the general principle which is certainly applicable to all generations until the Lord returns

It is also no doubt a passage of scripture for which we as fathers will one day have to our forefathers to teach their give an account for in judgheavenly father. He wants us to tell them how much he loves them! He expects us to tell them about His wonderful son Jesus! And He expects this to be an ongoing process until His Son returns again in judgment.

Verse eight of the psalm says that God does not want the next generation to be as unbelieving as this one! Let's face it and be completely truthful. Our generation has been stubborn and rebellious towards God! For the most part our generation has not been loyal to God! That's the bad news.

The good news is that it's not too late for the upcoming generation! It's not too late for our children's generation to be raised in the Lord and to set the world on its ear for Christ!

The challenge is that it's up to you and I! We determine the destiny of our children's generation. Our example, our words, our actions, our teachings, our beliefs, our dreams, our goals, our attainments all have a profound impact upon our children.

So fathers, it's up to you and me. What will the world be like when our children grow up? Think about it. Pray about it. And finally, do something

WHEN THE MAIN THING TO WATCH WAS THE RADIO AND THE LIGHT BILL WAS MAINLY FOR THE LIGHT.

Jack Benny. The Shadow. Edward R. Murrow broadcasting from war-torn London. Mississippi Power families gathered around those bulky, boxy radios for news and entertainment. Besides that, their electricity needs were few: a refrigerator, a couple of fans. And electric lights. No wonder electricity bills were smaller then.

Over the past forty years, electricity and technology have substantially improved the quality of our lives. Conveniences you hardly even think about: home air conditioning, frost-free refrigerators, electric clothes dryers, microwave ovens, color televisions, home computers, dozens of others. Maybe your one reminder of this expanded service is the bill you receive each monul from mississippi Power.

	Age and Price Average Annual (/Kilowati-bour)

A kilowatt-bour is the electricity necessary to light ten 100-watt light bulbs for one bour

Look at the comparative chart. Residential customers on the average are using more than ten times as much electricity today. And bills are higher, not only because of increased usage, but also because it now costs more to produce electricity.

For example, just as your gasoline costs have skyrocketed, so has the cost of the fuel we burn to generate power. As a matter of fact, since the Arab Oil Embargo of 1973, our average cost of fuel per kilowatt-hour generated has more than quadrupled.

But in forty years, our price per kilowatthour has not even doubled. We know that's a claim most other goods and services

Our point is simple. When you stop to think of it, you'll realize what good value you're getting for the money you spend on electricity.

But maybe you're skeptical. Why not get out your last bill from Mississippi Power and break it down for yourself? Divide by the number of days each month and the number of people in your household. The result is your average electricity cost per person, per day, and might look something like this:

umber of | Number in | A Day per Housebold Person for Electricity from Mississippi Power. A good value in '43. A better value in '83. Even when the light bill is for more than just the lights.

One of a series. If you have a question about your electric service or Mississippi Power, call or write. The address is on your bill stub.

Business, Professional Women endorse Gandy for governor

The Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs has endorsed Evelyn Gandy in her bid for governor.

The endorsement was the first order of business Friday at the 59th annual convention. of the Federation held at the Coliseum Ramada Inn in Jackson.

Some 300 members from throughout the state attended the convention.

Miss Gandy, a past state president of the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, is supportive of such issues as economic security for women, comparable worth, job security and equal opportunities in education, said Mrs. Mary K. Byrd, president of the 2,000 member organization.

"We are proud to support the candidacy of Evelyn Gandy for governor and believe that she offers the experience

What makes these highly scenic, interesting roadways drive in the center of the road, so dangerous is the fact that and become careless about most of them have irregular changing to their proper lane surfaces — often with sharp until at the last moment when curves and narrow lanes.

Some even gamble that no one is coming and go blindly over a hill or around a curve in the middle of the road. That is like playing Russian roulette with your vehicle.

Most rural roads were not designed as such, but just grew with time as the accepted route between farmsteads, and often followed the topographical contours that were easiest to follow.

Hence hilly roads wiggled more in their ascent and descent, and few were banked to restrain centrifugal forces.

Being caught on a dirt or poor quality road after a heavy rain is especially a challenge to drivers. Muddy and slick dirt roads are a test for the best drivers under the best of circumstances. Muddy, slick roads in hilly terrain can be next to impossible for the most experienced drivers.

When driving muddy roads operators should slow their speed to a creep, and follow ruts that may be in their lane provided they are not too deep. If the ruts become too deep, like on a logging road, the best advice is to back out and take another road.

If you do slide into a ditch or if your vehicle is disabled in a lane of traffic, put up some kind of warning for other vehicles so they may slow down before rounding a curve at full speed to find suddenly a disabled vehicle blocking their Country driving can be a most rewarding experience because of the close relationship afforded with nature and the intimate features of a locality. But if the rules are not observed, it can very easily become a real disaster.
